

Winner: Middlesbrough
Runner-up: Old Carthusians
No. of entries: 90

Amateur Cup winning team – 1894-95

There are several missing results in the early qualifying rounds.

Leicestershire were represented by Leicester YMCA. They received a bye in the first qualifying round, a walk over in the second and were slaughtered 8-0 by Beeston Town in the third qualifying round having arrived one man short.

QUALIFYING COMPETITION

First Qualifying Round

First Division

Date	Home	Away
	Darlington St Augustine's	Leadgate Exiles

Loftus, Whitby, Saltburn Swifts. Howden Rangers, Berwick-on-Tweed, Leadgate Park and Willington Athletic, byes.

Second Division

Beeson, Liverpool Ramblers, Aston Old Edwardians, and Leicester YMCA, byes.

Third Division

Norwich CEYMS, Ipswich and Peterborough, byes.

Fourth Division

Date	Home			Away
	Chesham	2	4	St Albans
	Windsor & Eton	1	1	Slough	30 mins extra time played

Maidenhead, Chesham Generals, Newbury, Wycombe Wanderers, Oxford City, and West Herts, byes

Fifth Division

Date	Home			Away
	Tottenham Hotspur	7	0	Old Harrovians	Northumberland Park

Crouch End, City Ramblers, Woodville, London Welsh, Old St Mark's, Romford and 3rd Grenadier Guards, byes

Sixth Division

Date	Home			Away
27.10.1894	Old Cranleighans Ridell Knight	2	0	Old Wykebamists	Catford Bridge.

Vampires, Clapham Rovers, Polytechnic, Surbiton Hill, Old Wilsonians, Ealing and 1st Highland Light Infantry, byes.

Seventh Division

Preliminary Round

Date	Home			Away
	Hastings Athletic	3	1	Eastbourne

First Qualifying Round

Date	Home			Away
	Sittingbourne			Hastings Athletic

Training Battalion Royal Engineers, Ashford United, Folkestone, Faversham. Maidstone, Royal Scots Fusiliers and Evengreens (Tunbridge Weks), byes

Eighth Division

Date	Home			Away
	Hereford Thistle	2	0	Bournemouth

Bristol St George's, Warmley, Clifton, Bedminster, Bristol South End, Old Weymouth, and King's Own Regiment, byes

Replay

Date	Home			Away
27.10.1894	Slough	3	1	Windsor & Eton

Second Qualifying Round

Division 1

Date	Home			Away
	Loftis			Darlington St Augustine's or Leadgate Exiles
	Whitby			Saltburn Swifts
	Howden Rangers			Willington Athletic

Second Division

Beeson, Liverpool Ramblers, Ason Old Edwardians, and Leicester YMCA, byes.

Third Division

Norwich CEYMS, Ipswich and Peterborough, byes.

Fourth Division

Date	Home			Away
	Chesham or St Albans			Maidenhead
10.11.1894	Chesham Generals	1	4	Newbury
10.11.1894	West Herts	5	1	Wycombe Wanderers
	Slough			Oxford City

Fifth Division

Date	Home			Away
10.11.1894	3 rd Grenadier Guards	2	4	London Welsh
10.11.1894	City Ramblers	1	6	Tottenham Hotspur
10.11.1894	Old St Mark's	4	5	Crouch End
	Woodville			Richmond

Sixth Division

Date	Home			Away
	1st Highland Light Infantry			Clapham Rovers
	Old Cranleighans			Old Wilsonians
10.11.1894	Surbiton Hill	2	1	Polytechnic
	Vampires			Ealing

Seventh Division

Date	Home			Away
	Evergreens			Ashford United
10.11.1894	Faversham	1	2	Royal Scots Fusiliers
10.11.1894	Folkestone	2	4	Royal Engineers Training Battalion
10.11.1894	Maidstone	0	5	Sittingbourne,

Eighth Division

Date	Home			Away
27.10.1894	Bedminster	2	3	Old Weymouthians
10.11.1894	Bristol St George's	5	5	Clifton
10.11.1894	Hereford Thistle	4	2	Bristol South End
10.11.1894	King's Own Regiment	3	1	Warmley

Second Round Replays

Eighth Division

Date	Home			Away
19.11.1894	Clifton	3		Bristol S George's	At Chequers, Kingswood. 800 spectators
24.11.1894	Oxford City Plumptre (4) Howkins (2) West Walker	8	0	Slough

The following clubs were exempt from the Qualifying Competition: 2nd Scots Guards, Casuals, Chatham Sheffield, Shrewsbury, Old Brightonians, Stockton, Old Etonians, South Bank, Clapham, Leek, Sheppey

United, Bishop Auckland, Old Carthusians, Middlesbrough, Crusaders, Swindon town, Marlow, Old Westminsters, Reading, Cliftonville, Buxton, Crewe Alexandra and Darlington.

Third Qualifying Round

First Division

Date	Home			Away
1.12.1894	Howden Rangers	2	0	Leadgate Park
	Saltburn swifts			Lofthouse

Second Division

Date	Home			Away
	Aston Old Edwardians			Liverpool Rambles
1.12.1894	Leicester YMCA	A	A	Beeston	Abandoned due to fog

Third Division

Date	Home			Away
1.12.1894	Norwich CEYMS	1	3	Ipswich

Peterborough, bye.

Fourth Division

Date	Home			Away
1.12.1894	Newbury	2	2	Oxford City	Foggy weather
1.12.1894	West Herts	1	2	Maidstone

Fifth Division

Date	Home			Away
8.12.1894	London Welsh	3	1	Crouch End	Nightingale-lane enclosure, Hornsey
	Woodville or Romford			Tottenham Hotspur

Sixth Division

Date	Home			Away
	Highland Light Infantry	W		Old Crauleighans
1.12.1894	Ealing	3	3	Surbiton

Seventh Division

Date	Home			Away
1.12.1894	Roya Scots Fusiliers	1	3	Training Battalion RE	At Folkestone
1.12.1894	Sittingbourne	1	-0	Ashford United

Eighth Division

Date	Home			Away
1.12.1894	Clifton	1	2	King's Own Lancaster Regiment
1.12.189	Herford Thistle	1	2	Old Wemouthians

Third Qualifying Round Replays

Date	Home			Away
8.12.1894	Beeston Town Boughton Palmer (4) Forman AN Other	8	0	Leicester YMCA	Leicester arrived one man short.
1.12.1894	Maidenhead	2	1	West Herts	At Watford.

					700 spectators. 1-1 after 90 mins. Extra-time played – game stopped 3 mins into the second period of extra-time due to darkness.
13.12.1894	Oxford City	3	0	Newbury	Handful of spectators
	Surbiton			Ealing

Final Qualifying Round

First Division

Date	Home			Away
29.12.1894	Saltburn Swifts	3	1	Howden Rangers

Second Division

Date	Home			Away
22.12.1894	Beeston	4	1	Aston Old Edwardians

Third Division

Date	Home			Away
22.12.1894	Ipswich	7	1	Peterborough

Fourth Division

Date	Home			Away
22.12.1894	Maidenhead	4	0	Oxford City

Fifth Division

Date	Home			Away
22.12.1894	Tottenham Hotspur	1	1	London Welsh	Northumberland Park.

Sixth Division

Date	Home			Away
	Ealing	W		Highland Light Infantry	Highland Light Infantry scratched

Seventh Division

Date	Home			Away
22.12.1894	Sittingbourne	2	0	Training Battalion RE

Eighth Division

Date	Home			Away
22.12.1894	Old Weymouthians	0	3	King's Own Lancaster Regiment

PROPER COMPETITION

Round 1

Date	Home			Away
2.2.1895	Beeston	0	2	Tottenham Hotspur
2.2.1895	Bishop Auckland	0	2	Middlesbrough
2.2.1895	Clapton	0	4	King's Own Lancashire Regiment
2.2.1895	Cliftonville	2	0	Buxton
2.2.1895	Crewe Alexandra	7	0	Sheffield

2.2.1895	Crusaders	W		Chatham	Chatham scratched
2.2.1895	Darlington	3	2	Saltburn Swifts
2.2.1895	Ealing	3	4	Marlow
2.2.1895	Ipswich Town	0	0	2 nd Battalion Scots Guard
2.2.1895	Leek	3	3	Shrewsbury
2.2.1895	Old Carthusians	W		Swindon	Swindon scratched
2.2.1895	Old Etonians	W		Sittingbourne	Sittingbourne scratched
2.2.1895	Reading	3	1	Casuals
2.2.1895	Stockington	1	3	South Bank	First match abandoned with Sittingbourne leading 3-0

Round 1 Replays

Date	Home			Away
16.2.1895	Ipswich Town	2	1	2 nd Battalion Scots Guard
9.2.1895	Shrewsbury	2	0	Leek

Round 2

Date	Home			Away
9.3.1895	Crewe Alexandra	2	0	Shrewsbury Town
2.3.1895	Darlington	1	1	Middlesbrough
2.3.1895	Great Marlow	2	4	King's Own Lancashire Regiment
?2.1895	Ipswich Town	1	1	Old Etonians	Portman Road, Ipswich. 2,000 spectators
9.3.1895	Old Brightonians	W		Crusaders	Crusaders scratched
9.3.1895	Reading	8	2	Old Westminster

Round 2 Replay

Date	Home			Away
9.3.1895	Middlesbrough	1	1	Darlington

Round 2 Second Replay

Date	Home			Away
16.3.1895	Middlesbrough	2	0	Darlington	Linthorpe-road, Ground, Middlesbrough

Round 3

Date	Home			Away
	King's Own Lancashire Regiment	W		Old Etonians	Old Etonians scratched.
23.3.1895	Old Brightonians	0	8	Middlesbrough
23.3.1895	Old Carthusians	1	0	Crewe Alexandra
9.3.1895	South Bank	5	2	Reading

Semi-Finals

Date	Home			Away
13.4.1895	Middlesbrough	4	0	King's Own Lancashire Regiment	At Derby. Game should have been played at Leicester, but the ground was not available.
13.4.1895	South Bank	1	1	Old Carthusians	Leeds Rugby Club ground, Headingley

					3,000 spectators.
--	--	--	--	--	-------------------

Semi-Final Replay

Date	Home			Away
20.4.1895	South Bank	2	3	Old Carthusians	Baseball ground, Derby. 1,000 spectators

Final

Date	Home			Away
25.4.1895	Middlesbrough	2	1	Old Carthusians	Headingley, Leeds. Fair attendance.

Match Reports

BEESTON TOWN v. LEICESTER Y.M.C.A.
The above teams met in the Amateur Cup competition at Beeston this afternoon in the presence of a fair attendance. Beeston were very strongly represented, both Fred and Frank Forman being out in their old positions. Leicester arrived a player short, and played one short during the game. Beeston pressed from the kick-off and soon had two goals on, from the feet of Boughton and Palmer. At half-time they led by seven to none, of which number Boughton had scored two goals, Palmer four goals, and Forman one. In the second half the home team took matters much quieter, and only added one other goal to the score, which at call of time was—Beeston, eight; Leicester, none. The game was of a very pleasant character. Both Formans played brilliantly, also Price, Boughton, and Palmer. Players:—
Beeston.—Gooff, goal; J. Richardson and W. Hazledine, backs; S. Jefford, Frank Forman, and J. Barker, half-backs; F. Price W. Boughton, H. Palmer, Hodland, and F. Forman, forwards.
Leicester Y.M.C.A.—W. Picken, goal; J. Rowson and A. Denton, backs; E. Jones, Bailey, and McAlpin, half-backs; A. Beadwath, M. Tyler, T. Brown, E. Brown, and H. Tyler. Referee: Mr. W. Proctor.

Football News (Nottingham) - 8 December 1894

THE AMATEUR ASSOCIATION CUP.

FINAL TIE AT LEEDS.

OLD CARTHUSIANS v. MIDDLESBROUGH.

The ground of the Leeds Club was honoured to-day by being the rendezvous for the final tie for the Amateur Association Cup between the Old Carthusians and Middlesbrough teams. It will be remembered that a fortnight ago the Carthusians, who are the holders of the Cup, played the semi-final tie on the same ground with South Bank, and the support accorded to that event by Leeds people was so satisfactory that the Council of the Football Association decided to give the "Scker" game a further filip in the West Riding by arranging for the final tie in the competition to be also played on the Headingley enclosure. Last year, the first year of the competition, the final was decided at Richmond, when the Old Charterhouse boys defeated the Casuals by two goals to one. This season the Old Carthusians have played a most consistent game, and after their defeat of Crewe Alexandra managed to win against South Bank upon the second time of asking. Fresh from their victory over South Bank however, the Old Boys engaged in the final of the London Charity Cup on Tuesday last against the London Caledonians, and were defeated by the Scotsmen by three goals to one. The London Caledonians played with by far greater dash than their opponents, who appeared somewhat the worse for their recent exertions. Middlesbrough, the Old Charterhouse men's opponents to-day, were the only amateur club in the competition proper of the English Cup, and had disposed of their opponents in the Amateur Cup in good style, including the Old Westminsters at Wembley Park. The teams travelled to Leeds this morning, the Londoners leaving town at 9.45 a.m. by G.N.R. express, and making the Great Northern Hotel their headquarters. The following were the selected sides:—

Old Carthusians—E. K. H. Wilkinson, goal; A. M. Walters and P. M. Walters, backs; E. F. Buzzard, A. du C. Kite, and E. C. Streatfield, half backs; M. H. Stanbrough and G. S. Wilson (left wing), G. O. Smith (centre), H. J. Broadbent and C. D. Hewitt (right wing) forwards.

The kick off was fixed for 3.30, when, in spite of the rain and cold weather, there was a fair attendance, and numbers of the public were still coming into the ground. The wind was blowing across the ground, and gave little advantage to the side winning the toss. The Old Carthusians won the spin. The Northerners started the game. They attacked at once, and before the game was a minute old Bach sent in a hot shot which Wilkinson had to fist out. Pretty passing by Broadbent on the old scholar side earned impartial cheers, and was the means of giving the Carthusians some advantage, and Smith shot in at goal without success. Then the Northerners had a short turn at attacking, but to no purpose, and Wilson was mainly instrumental in the scholars getting close to the Middlesbrough goal. Here they had two corners in succession, Bach clearing in good style. The Carthusians attacked by means of superior passing, but Hewitt shot the ball rather wildly over the bar. So for the game had been all in the Carthusians' favour. The Northerners, however, were put in a good position mainly through the instrumentality of Gettings, and Wilkinson had to kick the ball away, following which there was a pretty exhibition of passing and dribbling by Stanbrough, and Murphy had a chance on the left wing for Middlesbrough, but made a very weak shot—the ball going behind. A foul was given against the Northern team, and from a subsequent centre by Stanbrough, the Middlesbrough goal had a very narrow escape. Streatfield and Stanbrough made another attack, and it was an almost miraculous escape. The goal keeper had to run out to a good shot by A. M. Walters, and then Stanbrough had a chance, but could not get on the mark, and the ball went behind again. The Middlesbrough men had a chance after this, and Mullens had a shot, which Wilkinson saved splendidly, but had it scored off-side would have nullified it. The game was quickly at the other end, and twice in as many minutes there were shots at the Middlesbrough goal, the Scholars having hard lines in not capturing it. For some minutes after this neither side could claim any advantage, but at length the Scholars had to concede a corner, of which the Yorkshiremen made bad use. Then Hewitt had a fast run down the right for nothing, while on the other side Allport spoiled a piece of good combination by an aimless kick behind, many yards wide of the Carthusians' goal. Middlesbrough were now having the best of the argument, Bach being specially conspicuous, but the Scholars' goal was not really endangered until Johnson centred and Gettings shot in, the ball passing just outside the net. Hands were given against the Southerners, and from a hot attack their goal luckily escaped, Johnson kicking the ball on to the top of the net in making a very good effort to score. Wilkinson had to use his hands a moment later from another shot by Johnson. In a moment the game was at the other end, Smith taking the ball on, and Hewitt centred to Stanbrough, whose shot was badly directed. A corner followed to Middlesbrough, Buzzard and Streetfield clearing cleverly. Stanbrough next had a fast dribble down the right but could not get through and a weak kick on his part brought another attack to a fruitless end. A foul was given against Smith, and Streetfield taking the ball on from the kick shot at goal again without success, and after a few minutes' play in the Carthusians' favour Hewitt had a glorious chance, but sent the ball over the bar. From the kick-off the Northerners went down the ball at a fast rate, and Gettings sent in a good shot which Wilkinson cleverly cleared. Half-time was called with the score:

OLD CARTHUSIANS—Nil.
MIDDLESBROUGH—Nil.

Smith re-started, and the Northerners at once got a corner, from which Bach missed a fine chance, when the Carthusians' goal was at his mercy. A counter attack was saved by Johnston, and then Hewitt led a movement which ended in Cooper having to use his hands. Gettings next sent the ball to Johnston at the other end, and the Middlesbrough right wing sent in a shot which went just outside the goal. There was a further escape a moment later, off-side being, however, allowed. The Scholars then scored the first point of the game in very clever style. Smith passed to Hewitt, who dribbled down to the right and centred beautifully back to Smith, and the latter, with a clean low shot, scored a fine goal, Cooper having no chance of saving the shot. This success was hailed with much cheering. The Middlesbrough men appeared to fall off just afterwards, and they had to concede two corners in quick succession. Stanbrough had a fast run down the left, and centred to Smith, who sent in a very hot shot, which cannoned off an opponent, and went behind. Middlesbrough then woke up, and had a brief attack, but a foul being given against them Streetfield's kick caused them to retire, and Hewitt ought to have tried at goal, but lost the opportunity by dallying too long. Middlesbrough made matters exciting after this. Allport sending the ball in smartly, and the Carthusians escaping with a fruitless corner, while another attack, initiated by Johnson, was spoiled by hands being given against the Yorkshiremen, and from another corner Buzzard cleared. Middlesbrough, however, kept up the pressure, and Allport from a free kick came very near lowering the goal. Eventually the Northerners had their reward, for Gettings sent the ball to Allport, who made a tall header into the goal, and Mullen charging over the goalkeeper the goal was captured and the score equalised, the point being hailed with cheers which would have done credit to a Rugby final. Play was now very exciting and it ran in Middlesbrough favour. Nelmes sent the ball through, and it was thought a goal had been scored, but the referee overruled the point apparently for off-side. Middlesbrough continued to have all the best of the game and Nelmes missed a fine chance. Just on time Allport took a corner for Middlesbrough, and sending in the ball with a good shot to Nelmes, the latter headed it through, and gave the Yorkshiremen the lead, amid great enthusiasm.

RESULT :—

MIDDLESBROUGH—2 goals.
OLD CARTHUSIANS—1 goal.

DRAW FOR THE THIRD ROUND.

First Division.—Saltburn Swifts v Lofthouse ; Howden Rangers v Leadgate Park.

Second Division.—Aston Old Edwardians v Liverpool Ramblers ; Beeston v Leicester Y.M.C.A.

Third Division.—Norwich C.E.Y.M.S. v Ipswich ;
Peterborough (bye).

Fourth Division.—Newbury v Slough or Oxford
City ; West Herts v Maidenhead or St Albans.

Fifth Division.—London Welsh v Old St. Mark's or Crouch End ; Woodville or Romford v Tottenham Hotspur.

Sixth Division.—Highland Light Infantry v Old
Crauleighans ; Ealing v Surbiton Hill.

Seventh Division.—Royal Scots Fusiliers v
Training Battalion R.E. ; Sittingbourne v Ashford United.

Eighth Division.—Hereford Thistle v Old Wey-mouthians ; Bristol St. George's or Clifton v King's Own Lancaster Regiment.

All ties to be played on Saturday, 1 Dec. The first-named club in each instance has choice of ground. Kick-off not later than half-past two p.m.